GUARANTEED DEPOSITS.

We believe that next to the tariff issue the proposition in the Democratic platform for a law requiring banks to guarantee deposits will prove the greatest winning card in Bryan's election. Our reason for believing this is two-fold. In the first place the proposition is right and just, and in the second place it is so simple that the voters can not be possibly mistaken about its meaning. The Republican platform proposes, instead of a guarantee of deposits, that postal savings banks be established by the government. In other words, it proposes for the government to go into the banking business, rather than have the banks guarantee their deposits.

The Republican Campaign Committee is circulating as campaign literature on this subject the speech of Congressman Wm. E. Humphrey, delivered in Congress May 18, this year. We have a copy of this document, and it contains some very remarkable statements. One is this (Humphrey was speaking of the present panic): "It was a panic of unfounded fear, a panic that was brought upon us because of a lack of confidence of the people in banks." If Mr. Humphrey is correct about this then we must all admit that some remedy is necessary, and the matter narrows down to the question as to which is best for the country at large, a guaranteed system or a postal savings bank system. The bankers of the country who seem generally opposed to both propositions, had as well make up their minds that one or the other is coming, and by deciding whether they are willing to endorse the guarantee system and stay in the banking business, or have the government get into the banking business and be forced, whether it so desires or not, to practically absorb the entire banking business of the country, except that done by a few favored banks made depositories by the government.

The Republican platform is not explicit as to just what character of postal savings banks it proposes to establish, but the presumption is that they mean to endorse the plan proposed by the President and Postmaster General. This plan was to place a limit upon the amount each person or each family could deposit. One does not have to be a banker nor yet a wise man to see that as soon as the government has made it absolutely safe for these small savings deposits to be placed in the government bank that the people would clamor for the privilege of depositing not only their savings account, but their account upon which they wished to check also with the safe bank. They would not be satisfied with the privilege of depositing a part only of their money in an absolutely safe bank; they would demand the right to deposit all they had in a safe bank, with the privilege of checking on it at their pleasure. And when their demand becomes widespread all the little banks of the country would have to close up shop, for the demand for a safe place for all deposits would sweep the country like wild fire. It might be well enough to add that it has already attained some of the characteristics of a "burning issue."

The government, once in the banking business, would be forced to enlarge the plan, and in a little while every bank in the country not favored with government deposits would be put out of business. This same speech of Humphrey's, being circulated by the Republican committee, has this remarkably frank admission in it; "If we had postaleavings banks, then in time of panic the money would go into the postal savings banks and then into the national banks and then back to the channels of trade." In time of panic where would all this money that Humphrey admits would go into postal savings banks come from? The answer is easy; it would come from the smaller banks, that is, the depositors would draw it out of the small banks, put it into the government banks; the government would then deposit it with the big national banks that are government depositories, and it would again reach the "channels of trade" when these big national banks had loaned it out and secured the interest on it. In the meantime the little banks would have gone to the wall.

Suppose we had had government banks when the panic struck this country last fall? Every one knows what would have happened; every depositor in a bank, big or little, that was not a government depository, would have demanded his money at once, and the banks would have either been forced to close their doors, or to issue "clearing house certificates" as many of them did. It was a great strain to make the depositors satisfied last fall with certificates when there were no government banks, but if there were government banks, and a panic came, and depositors demanded their money from the unsecured banks in order to put it into safe government banks, and the banks undertook to put them off with clearing house certificates, the night rider trouble in Kentucky would look like a Sunday school picnic by comparison with the riots that would be precipitated.

The people have made up their minds, after losing, and seeing their neighbors lose, the earnings of a lifetime in the failure of some unsecured bank, that when they hand their money to a banker that he may loan it out and get interest on it, that they shall know, not guess, that when they want the money back they can get it. And the people are in the right in the matter. If we let another man use our money for his benefit, we ought to have an absolute guarantee that we can get it back when we want it. This right, and demand, of the people has crystallized into planks in the platforms of the two great political parties. One proposes that the banks shall be required to guarantee deposits; the other proposes that the government shall absorb all the banking business of the country except that done by a few of the big national banks. One or the other is headed this way, sure, and the small banker had better be digging him a storm cellar, or helping to elect Bryan.

You ask why the Republican platform did not propose bank guarantee? The answer is simple—the Republicans did not dare write in their platform any thing that would antagonize the Harrimans, Rockefellers and their fellow conspirators that own not only the great trusts, but the great national banks of New York City, and the other great cities of the country, that would be the beneficiaries of the postal savings bank system. They omitted such a plank from their platform for the reason that they did not propose to reduce the tariff, and defeated a plank offered for publicity of campaign contributions; they did not dare offend the gang that is putting up their corruption fund in this campaign, as it has been doing for the last 12 years.—Frankfurt Journal.

CHURCH MATTERS.

Fifty more men wanted. Call at the Methodist church promptly at 11 A. M. Dr. Pearce, the new pastor, will preach at McKendree church at Hubble on Second and Fourth Sundays 11 A. M. Rev. Robert M. Hoskins, of Louisville, will preach at the Christian church next Sunday morning at 10:45. Subject Sunday morning at the Methodist church is "Advantages of Good Civil Government, Contrasted with God's Spiritual Government." Epworth League service 6:30 p. m. Preaching at 7:15 p. m. or second lecture from the "Sermon on the Mount."

The Presbyterian Synod of Kentucky met at Winchester. The principal business before the meeting is the discussion of control of Central University. At the last meeting the government of the institution was vested absolutely in the board of trustees, a self-perpetuating body. A protest was made to the general assembly, which opposed the synod's action in giving up its control of the college and directed the synod to take up the question again.

Would Mortgage the Farm.
A Farmer on Rural Route 2, Empire, Ga., W. A. Floyd by name, says: "Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured the two worst sores I ever saw; one on my hand and one on my leg. It is worth more than its weight in gold. I would not be without it if I had to mortgage the farm to get it." Only 25c. at Penny's Drug Store.

The Prohibition Platform.

The following platform of the prohibition party is printed at the request of our old friend, Eld. Joseph Ballou.

First.—The submission by Congress to the several States of an amendment to the federal constitution prohibiting the manufacture, sale, importation, exportation or transportation of alcoholic liquor for beverage purposes.

Second.—The immediate prohibition of the liquor traffic for beverage purposes in the District of Columbia, in the territories and all places over which the national government has jurisdiction; the repeal of the internal revenue tax on alcoholic liquors and the prohibition of the interstate traffic therein.

Third.—The election of United States Senators by direct vote of the people.

Fourth.—Equitable graduated income and inheritance taxes.

Fifth.—The establishment of postal savings banks and the guaranty of deposits in banks.

Sixth.—The regulation of all corporations doing an interstate commerce business.

Seventh.—The creation of a permanent tariff commission.

Eighth.—The strict enforcement of law instead of the official tolerance and practical license of the social evils which prevail in many of our cities, with its unspeakable traffic in girls.

Ninth.—Uniform marriage- and divorce laws.

Tenth.—An equitable and constitutional employers' liability act.

Eleventh.—Court review of postoffice department decisions.

Twelfth.—The prohibition of child labor in mines, workshops and factories.

Thirteenth.—Legislation basing suffrage only upon intelligence and ability to read and write the English language.

Fourteenth.—The preservation of the mineral and forest resources of the country and the improvement of the highways and waterways.

Believing in the righteousness of our cause and in the final triumph of our principles and convinced of the unwillingness of the Republican and Democratic parties to deal with these issues, we invite to full party fellowship all citizens who are with us agreed.

BANK.

Our New Concrete Fire Proof Bank Building.

We wish to call the public's attention to the fact that our New Concrete Fire Proof Bank Building is now completed and that we are now permanently located in same.

We needed better accommodations for our business and as we are amply able to pay for the building, we saw no good reason why we should not build it. Besides we think nothing too good for our friends, who by their generous patronage have made it possible to put up for their use so fine a structure; built solidly for all time, typical of our banking institution which is built as solidly and as enduring a foundation.

This Bank studies the needs of its customers and properly takes care of them, whether their business is large or small; no business too large for us to handle and none too small to receive our closest attention.

We have the Modern Screw Door Burglar Proof Safe and our depositors are doubly secured by Bank Burglar Insurance; also our officers are bonded.

A cordial welcome awaits you at DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For President

William Jennings Bryan,
of Nebraska.

For Vice President,

John Worth Kern,
of Indiana.

For Congress

HARVEY HELM
of Lincoln county.

For County Judge,

John Sam Owsley, Jr.

For Jailer,

ROBERT H. COFFEY

For Magistrate,

JAMES MCKECHNIE

FROM reliable and conservative sources comes the gratifying intelligence that the democratic national ticket is gaining ground at a rapid rate. In the north-middle States especially, great uneasiness is felt by the republicans. The labor vote is solidly organized against Speaker Joseph G. Cannon and it is likely that he will be defeated for re-election to Congress. Stevenson, the democratic nominee for governor, has more than an even chance to carry Illinois and the best authorities on the question contend that with the election of Mr. Stevenson will come the defeat of a majority of the republican nominees for Congress in that State. So, with Kern holding down the enemy's majority in Indiana, Judson Harmon making great inroads on Taft's vote in Ohio, Chanler the conceded winner of the gubernatorial race in New York and the return to Washington of all Congressmen from the solid South, it seems more than probable that Mr. Bryan, whose election is confidently expected, will be backed by a democratic House and the cry from a tax-ridden populace—"Shall the People Rule?" answered in thundering tones, YES.

It has often been said that talk is cheap; therefore, in order that an assertion may have something to commend itself, there must be a basis for it. There can be no cause without an effect. There can be no effect without a cause. Glancing back at our statement a few months ago the prospects of a greatly reduced republican vote in Indiana and other pivotal States, the conservative reader will look for a cause for this change in those rock-ribbed strongholds. Indiana is well nigh torn asunder on account of the recent passage by her Legislature of a county local option law. The republicans have control of the General Assembly and are therefore responsible for its effect, which, however great morally, is sure to result disastrously to the party that fostered it. In Illinois the labor vote is a factor that must be reckoned with. This class of people are keenly alert and recognize the fact that Judge Taft's action in denying the right of jury trial to the wage earner augers no good to them and almost to a man they will support Mr. Bryan. In addition to this the democratic State ticket is headed by Adri E. Stevenson, a man of great ability, clean in every respect, of charming personality and the recognized friend of labor. The effect of the wage-earners' treatment by Taft is therefore readily seen. In Ohio the forces of Senator Foraker remain alienated. His elimination from the campaign by Roosevelt and Taft has in no wise been wholesome, and, smarting under the disappointment of his defeat for the presidential nomination, he will do nothing to swing his following into line—and there is no doubt about his following being large and influential. In the Buckeye State, as in Illinois, the democratic nominee for governor is an intellectual giant, his bitterest enemy can find no flaw in his career, either private or public, and his followers are by no means confined to the democratic party. Judge Harmon is in the full vigor of manhood while his republican opponent is growing rather infirm and out of touch with his party. The situation in New York presents a grave aspect for the republicans. Gov. Charles E. Hughes a short time since caused to be passed by the Legislature an act prohibiting gambling on the race tracks of that State. Without questioning the moral effect of this law, we must pause to reflect upon the probable outcome politically. With factional strife lying dormant, New York is heavily republican; the race horse owners and lovers are characteristically republican; they are also rich, powerful and number far into the thousands. This potent element is solidly arrayed against the re-election of Gov. Hughes, whom they correctly charge with destroying the very life of the racing game. It is openly charged that Hughes' renomination was brought about by the Roosevelt machine, the rank and file of republicanism looking on with protesting eye but powerless to help themselves. With this apathy in the republican ranks and with a powerful advocate at the head of the democratic State ticket, it is not an idle assertion that democracy's future is at high-tide not only in the Empire State but the nation as well.

Resolutions Passed by the Democratic Senatorial Committee of the 18th District.

Be it resolved by the democratic county chairmen of Lincoln, Boyle, Casey and Garrard counties, composing the 18th Senatorial district of Kentucky, that a call be issued by the Democratic Senatorial Committee of the 18th Senatorial district of Kentucky for a mass convention to be held at the respective county seats of several counties in said district on the 17th day of November, 1908, at the hour of 2 P. M., on said date, for the purpose of selecting delegates from said counties to attend a district convention to be held at Liberty, Casey county, Ky., on the 19th day of November, 1908, at which Senatorial district convention there shall be selected by said delegates, a democratic nominee for the said 18th Senatorial district of Kentucky.

Be it further resolved:

That in pursuance of said basis of representation that Lincoln county shall be entitled to nine delegates, Casey county six delegates, Boyle county eight delegates and Garrard county six delegates, to attend said district convention at Liberty, Ky., as aforesaid, and that all known democrats who have heretofore supported the democratic ticket and all young men who have become of age since the last regular democratic election and who purpose to affiliate with the democratic party, shall be eligible and are hereby invited to participate in said mass convention to be held in said counties.

Be it further resolved:

That the delegates selected from the several counties to attend the Senatorial District Convention and who shall hold credentials as such, signed by the Chairman and Secretary of the County Convention, shall be prime facie entitled as delegates to organize and participate in the District Convention.

POLITICAL.

Congressman Oliver James is speaking to immense crowds in Illinois. The 8-year-old son and namesake of John W. Kern, Democratic vice presidential candidate, is very seriously ill, suffering from infantile paralysis.

Reports from Indiana look favorable for the Democrats. James E. Watson, Republican candidate for Governor, may lose his home congressional district.

W. S. Bennett, a member of Congress from one of the New York City districts, has been appointed head of the Republican Speakers' Bureau to succeed A. Coleman du Pont.

National Chairman Mack announced that Mr. Bryan would make daylight speeches through Indiana on October 20, speaking at Louisville on that evening. Mr. Bryan will speak in Ohio on October 21.

William J. Bryan delivered an address to university students at Lincoln, in which he replied to some of the recent speeches of Gov. Charles E. Hughes. Mr. Bryan was given an enthusiastic reception by the students.

Walter Wellman, political correspondent of the Record-Herald, Chicago, says Ohio is a doubtful State in the coming election, with chances favorable to Bryan. He bases his opinion on the trend of the labor vote.

Chairman Mack, of the Democratic National Committee, said that the campaign list showed contributions to the number of nearly 25,000 from $1 up. The chairman said the total fund will be about $25,000, as already has been published.

W. J. Bryan made 22 speeches in Nebraska Wednesday.

John W. Kern, Democratic nominee for Vice President, has entered upon a seven days' speaking campaign in the East.

Treasurer Ridder of the democratic national committee, will make public all contributions to the campaign fund of over $100.

There seems to be some doubt as to whether Gov. Johnson will have opposition for his race for Governor of Minnesota. It is reported that his opponent, Jacob F. Jacobson, is not a naturalized citizen.

MATRIMONIAL.

S. J. Clarkson, 33, and Miss Crella Haynes, 21, both of McKinney, were married this week.

John J. Carter, of Louisville, was married a short time ago to Miss Mary Riat, of St. Croix, Ind. The groom is a son of J. H. Carter, of this county, and a mighty clever young man. His bride is said to be very pretty and attractive.

At the pretty home of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Alford on Logan Avenue, this city, Miss Gertrude Gooch, the handsome daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gooch of the West End, and Dr. James B. Smith, of Morrow, Ga., were united in wedlock a holy bonds, Rev. J. Murray Taylor, of the Baptist church, officiating. They left at once for their home in the South, taking the train at McKinney. The bride is a niece of Mrs. Alford and is a fine young woman.

Had a Close Call.

Mrs. Ada L. Croom, the widely known proprietor of the Croom Hotel, Vaughn, Miss., says: "For several months I suffered with a severe cough, and consumption seemed to have its grip on me, when a friend recommended Dr. Kling's New Discovery. I began taking it, and three bottles effected a complete cure." The fame of this life saving cough and cold remedy, and lung and throat balsam is world wide. Sold at Penny's Drug Store, 50c. and $1. Adorina's Fox

Is a handsome, large young Jersey Bull, descended from a long and unbroken line of the most noted bulls and cows on the market. Jim, King English and American. His sire is one of the best bulls ever imported and his dam is a show cow that has given 65 pounds of rich milk in one day. If you believe "Like begets Like" or the Likeness of Animals, you will have a fine bull. Good cow you should avail yourself of his services. He will be allowed to serve a limited number of approved, registered cows outside of our own herd this year, for a fee of $10.00. Call and make arrangement to be made.

HILL & LITTLE, STANFORD, KY.

N. H.—We have to offer three extra choice bull calves that will be sold at right prices.

UNDERWEAR

The season of changes is here and we must change our clothing to suit the season. We are especially well fixed this time in Underwear.

The "Royal Silk Plush" is unquestionably the best Underwear on the market to-day. Never fades; never draws up, medium weight, but WARMER than anything else. In shirts and drawers at $1.50 the garment. "WRIGHT'S" WOOL FLEECED is the standard. Everybody knows it. The wool a little softer and weight a little heavier than other makes. Shirts and Drawers at $1 the garment.

COOPER'S & WRIGHT'S

balbrigan Shirts and Drawers. Just the thing for those who do not like heavy Underwear. Soft and pleasant $1 the garment.

UNION SUITS,

soft, warm balbrigan at $1 and $2 the suit. Of course the cheaper grades 50c stuff we all have. Some buy LIGHTER WEIGHTS and sell

FOR SALE OR RENT.—My residence on Logan Avenue. Mrs. Nancy Logan, Stanford.

DR. W. N. CRAIG will be in his office over McRoberts' drug store, to-day and to-morrow, Oct. 16 and 17. Those who need glasses should not fail to have their eyes tested.

In a recent issue we stated that there was no water for either man or beast on the farm of J. L. Holtzclaw. The owner tells us it is hardly that bad. He has no stock water, but a well on his place affords a reasonable supply for domestic purposes.

The editor of this paper has been enjoying a delightful family reunion this week. His brothers, Messrs. W. P. Walton, of Lexington, and T. R. Walton, of Atlanta, Ga., and sister, Mrs. Emma Lee Vaughn, of Richmond, Va., have been with him and he has been too well entertained to attend to much business. They have departed, however, and he will again be found at the office ready to do business. Mr. T. R. Walton was accompanied by his excellent wife.

GET Singleton's prices on stoves. To LOAN.—$1,600 or $1,700. Apply at this office.

Go to Farris' Saturday if you want a good dinner Sunday.

VARY the monotony by attending the rink this, Friday evening.

LOW RATES to Louisville via L. & N. account Fall Races, Sept. 28th to Oct. 17th.

THE L. & N. will give a round-trip rate to the Lexington trot at $2, limited to Oct. 17th.

LARGE and well selected line of lap covers just received. E. T. Pence. Call and see them.

If all city taxes are not paid by Nov. 1st, the 6 per cent. penalty will be added. B. D. Carter, collector.

THE Ladies Aid Society of the Christian church will meet with Mrs. C. E. Tate this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

STANFORD'S second foot ball team defeated a team from Danville 27 to 0 on the grounds here Tuesday afternoon.

DUNN & ANAHAS, of Danville, will sell 55 magnificent building lots in that city on Oct. 24th. Don't fail to attend.

FOR SALE.—S. H. Aldridge cottage on Portman Avenue; or will rent by the month until sold. See or write L. R. Hughes, Stanford, Ky.

HEAR Gov. Thorne, Judge Saufley and Hon. John K. Todd at the courthouse here Saturday night at 7:30. The ladies are especially invited to hear these noted orators.

THE Advocate says the Devil leaves hell to come to Danville, but gives no good reason why his satanic majesty makes the change and in the meantime makes the public just wonders.

THERE will be a great game of foot ball here to-morrow, Saturday afternoon, between the Stanford High School team and Harrodsburg. Game called at 3 o'clock. Admission 25cts. Ladies free.

READ the advertisement of T. B. Bright's sale, near Danville, of thoroughbred, stallions, jacks and jennets, etc., which appears in another column of this paper. It will occur on Wednesday, Oct. 21.

SPEAKING.—Hon. Ben Lee Hardin, of Harrodsburg, and Messrs. George B. Saufley and T. H. Shanks, of this place, will speak at McKinney at 2:30 P. M. to-morrow, Saturday, and at Turnersville at 7:30 that night.

YOUR attention is called to the sale of John Buchanan's heirs at Crab Orchard Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. A splendid boundary of Dix river bottom land will go to the highest bidder. See advertisement in another column.

AN intellectual treat is in store for the voters of Boyle county. Judge M. C. Saufley of this place, is billed for a number of speeches there. They will be delivered the last week of the campaign, the exact dates to be announced later.

MAIL your guessing coupons to the Guess Editor of the INTERIOR JOURNAL. If addressed to the editor or the paper they will be opened, otherwise they will remain sealed until the day after the election. By the way, guesses are coming in right along and somebody is going to get $10.

BOYLE WILL HAVE A CANDIDATE.—Mr. Harry G. Wingate, of Boyle, who announced his candidacy for State Senator before the Senatorial committee here Wednesday, says that the action of the committee will not eliminate him from the race. Although he was the only candidate to announce himself and it is Boyle county's turn to furnish a Senator, the committee gave him a stone or you might term it a lemon, when he asked for bread. It is true that Mr. Wingate has not been endorsed by the democracy of his home county but he can and will get the endorsement whenever he wishes it. He is a splendid democrat, a fine gentleman, a very popular man and should make a strong race, it matters not who comes out against him.

VARNON—Miss Mary Varnon, aged 69, for many years a resident of this place, died at Lexington Tuesday morning at an early hour and the remains were brought to this place for interment Wednesday morning at 10:30. Deceased was the daughter of the late Judge Thomas Varnon, for a number of years judge of the Lincoln county court, and was an estimable Christian woman, having been since childhood a consistent member of the Christian church. During the second administration of President Cleveland Miss Varnon held a lucrative position in the office of collector Chas. H. Rhodes and was recognized as one of the most efficient and faithful clerks in this district. She is survived by one brother, Mr. W. E. Varnon, of Asheville, N. C., who arrived in time to attend the burial. The remains were brought to the home of Miss Amanda Goggin, who had been a life-time friend of Miss Varnon, and after a short service at the grave by Eld. Joseph Ballou, the remains were consigned to the tomb to await the resurrection morn.

DR. W. N. CRAIG will be in his office over McRoberts' drug store, to-day and to-morrow, Oct. 16 and 17. Those who need glasses should not fail to have their eyes tested.

In a recent issue we stated that there was no water for either man or beast on the farm of J. L. Holtzclaw. The owner tells us it is hardly that bad. He has no stock water, but a well on his place affords a reasonable supply for domestic purposes.

The editor of this paper has been enjoying a delightful family reunion this week. His brothers, Messrs. W. P. Walton, of Lexington, and T. R. They have departed, however, and he will again be found at the office ready to do business. Mr. T. R. Walton was accompanied by his excellent wife.

THE rink will be open this, Friday evening.

HON. R. B. FRANKLIN, of Frankfort, will speak at Hustonville Saturday afternoon week at 2 o'clock.

For sale or rent, the cottage on corner Logan Avenue and Lancaster street, I now occupy. Mrs. Laura E. Hundley, Stanford.

ONE FARRE plus 25 cents round trip to Lexington, October 6-16, 1908, via L. & N. account Fall Races Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders' Association.

POSITIVELY no hunting or trespassing allowed on my farm. Those doing so will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law. Mrs. R. L. Williams, Hustonville, Ky.

ESTRAY.—I have in the entry pen a black sow weighing about 160 pounds and a black sow with white points weighing about 200. Owners will please call and get them. B. D. Carter, city marshal.

MRS. M. V. MOORE, of McKinney, has just received a handsome line of Fall and Winter millinery to which she kindly invites the ladies of McKinney and vicinity to call and examine before purchasing.

WHO WANTS TO BUY A PIANO? I can furnish as fine a piano as ever was shipped to Lincoln county. If not superior to any piano now in use in Stanford, I will pay all freight and give my commission on same. Address W. B. Barker, Stanford, Ky.

WHAT would you think if you saw a bull churning? It would look funny, wouldn't it? Well, the sight can be had at Mr. J. H. Otter's farm on the Hustonville pike nearly every day. Mr. O. has a fine Jersey bull and to give him exercise he puts him in a tread mill which runs a large churn and turns out lots of golden butter. By the way, Mr. Otter has 50-odd of the finest Jersey cows in Kentucky.

MR. JOHN BRIGHT, SR., familiarly known as Red John Bright, presented to the fiscal court of this county a compilation in index form the marriage licenses that have been issued to white people from Jan. 1781, to Dec. 1907. There were 9,506 licenses issued and any one of them can be found in a few seconds, as well as the big book of marriages arranged. These 126 years extend from the time when Kentucky was but a parish of Virginia and when Lincoln was one of the only three counties in the State, to the present great era of progress and advancement. They run from the time it was necessary to give security in the sum of $250, or 50 pounds of current money, as then expressed, to this good time, when are puttable citizens need no endorsement save a witness to his signature. The valuable book contains the marriage dates of a great many prominent people, including several men who became governors of this and other States. So pleased were the members of the court with the work that they voted Mr. Bright $100 in cash and extended to him a rousing vote of thanks.

DEMOCRATIC SPEAKING.—Judge John Sam Owsley, Jr., Hon. M. F. North and W. S. Burch will speak at Richards' School-house Friday, Oct. 16, at 7:30 P. M. Geo. B. Saufley and T. H. FINE evenings to skate. Attend the rink to-night.

SEE the splendid Webber wagon on sale at Coffey & Bishop's store, Moreland. Best farm and road wagon made.

A GOOD crowd attended the Underwood sale yesterday and satisfactory prices were realized. Yearling mules bought $87.50, mule colts $54, ponies $80 to $112.50, calves and heifers $5.50 to $18.

THE steam roller worked well at the Senatorial committee meeting here Wednesday. It didn't exactly run over Mr. H. G. Wingate, of Boyle, but it came dangerously near it. Fair play, gentlemen of the committee; the vote is close in this district and we can't afford any "shenanigan."

AN effort was made to break into R. G. Jones' store near the depot Wednesday night but it is thought that the would-be burglars were scared away. A large glass in his front door was broken and the store could have been entered and burglarized but as nothing is missing the supposition is the scamps were frightened off.

JUDGE A. D. FORD, of Garrard, denies in a strong card that he either defrauded or attempted to defraud the State in the collection of money for Ann King, a pauper for whom he was committee. He says that he received the money and turned it over to the supposed beneficiary, but when he found out that the woman had been dead nearly two years he very promptly returned the money to the State and is out $129 by the transaction.

At Turnersville Tuesday night an enthusiastic Bryan and Kern Club of 50 members was organized. Rousing speeches were made by Messrs. Hill, Burch, Owlsley and Shanks. Hon. C. A. Hardin, of Harrodsburg, was the principal speaker at the organization of a Bryan and Kern Club at Moreland on Wednesday evening. About 75 members were enrolled and each pledged himself to give all possible time to work in the interest of the democratic ticket.

Blue Grass Farm For Sale!

I desire to sell privately my splendid Blue Grass Farm in south Stanford, situated in the West End, Lincoln county, one mile North of McKinney. Farm lies on splendid pike as well as on the Q. & C. Railroad, is 8 miles from Hustonville and 10 miles from Stanford, the county seat. Farm is well improved and has all necessary buildings, splendidly fenced and an abundance of water. Convenient to schools and churches and especially convenient for traders and shippers. All of the land is productive and a machine can be run over every foot of it. About 100 acres in cultivation and the crop shows for itself. 50 acres are being prepared for wheat this Fall. For further particulars address or call on S. M. OWENS, McKinney, Ky.

MIDDLEBURG.

There will be a magistrate's court at Yosemite Saturday, when two misdemeanor cases will be disposed of.

The Sunday schools here were quite slimly attended, on account of the scarlet fever.

Ben Jones and Herbert Benson killed a large rattle snake on Fogles Knob last week while out squirrel hunting.

John Tomlinson, of Somerset, has bought the Geo. Hicks farm adjoining the Olympian Springs. We did not learn the price paid.

The scarlet fever is worrying the little ones of this vicinity and causing much anxiety among parents. There have already been some 10 or 12 cases. The Casey fiscal court went up against the statute by refusing to make a levy for the benefit of the schools of the county. This is regarded as rather singular action of the court, but you can depend on fiscal courts to do singular things.

Rev. W. G. Tilford has resigned pastorate charge of the Baptist church here to take effect Jan. 1st. Bro. Tilford has been pastor here for two years and the work has prospered in his hands. It is likely that Rev. J. L. Owens will succeed Bro. Tilford though no call has yet been made.

Mrs. Eliza Estes arrived Saturday to visit the family of J. A. Estes. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McWhorter are on the sick list. Attorney J. E. Fogle, of Hartford, arrived yesterday, Tuesday, and will spend several days with relatives. Jess is one of the friendliest men I ever knew and everybody is glad to see him.

FARMER'S DEPARTMENT.

Fresh Jersey cow for sale. W. C. Shanks, Stanford.

A few Polled Angus bull calves, subject to register, for sale. J. W. Baughman, Stanford, Ky.

The Western mare advertised by J. Nevin Carter belonged to B. G. Gover and he called and got her.

A fine Shropshire Down buck left my place a month ago. Reward for his return or information leading thereto. James McKechnie, Hubble.

George Gano, by Gambetta Wilkes, and with a record of 2:03, was sold at Lexington to C. M. Greenbaugh, of New Hampshire, for $15,000.

There were about 300 cattle on the market here Monday and all except about 25 were sold. The prices were not high but there was a demand for good grade stuff.

A black and white spotted gilt weighing about 140 pounds left our farm about a week ago. Any information concerning her whereabouts thankfully received. Ewell Givens, Stanford.

The State Racing Commission refused to grant the request of the horsemen to eliminate the pari-mutuel form of betting and be allowed to return to the old-style of betting known as the bookmakers.

Stomach troubles would more quickly disappear if the idea of treating the cause, rather than the effect, would come into practice. A tiny, inside, hidden nerve, says Dr. Shoop, governs and gives strength to the stomach. A branch also goes to the heart, and one to the kidneys. When these "inside nerves" fall, then the organs must falter. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is directed specifically to these failing nerves. Within 48 hours after starting the Restorative treatment patients say they realize a gain. Sold by Penny's Drug Store.

Microbes, so they claim to-day, Mar the bliss. Scientific folks all say: "Do not kiss."

But we do not care at this; Let them warn, No one will, who gets a kiss, Give a darn.

A Jeweler's Experience.

C. H. Kluger, The Jeweler, 1060 Virginia Ave., Indianapolis, Ind., writes: "I was so weak from kidney trouble that I could hardly walk a hundred feet. Four bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy cleared my complexion, cured my back-ache and the irregularities disappeared, and I can now attend to business every day, and recommend Foley's Kidney Remedy to all sufferers, as it cured me after the doctors and other remedies had failed. Married Man In Trouble.

A married man who permits any member of the family to take anything except Foley's Honey and Tar, for coughs, colds and lung trouble, is guilty of neglect. Nothing else is as good for all pulmonary troubles. The genuine Foley's Honey and Tar contains no opiates and is in a yellow package. New Stanford Drug Co.

Judge Taft spoke at Lexington yesterday. He will make several other speeches in Kentucky, but it will avail him nothing. The State is sure for Bryan and Kern.

NEALS CREEK.

The people of this community were more than glad to get the much-needed rain, which came Friday night. Rev. Barker filled his appointment at this place Sunday afternoon, and delivered an excellent sermon. Our teacher, Miss Jessie Harrington, took her school Friday afternoon on a chestnut hunt. They were also accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Felix White. All reported a nice time and plenty of chestnuts. Jack Terry is confined to his bed with muscular rheumatism. J. T. Roberts, of Crab Orchard, spent Wednesday night with his brother, S. T. Roberts. Mr. Goode and Miss Nellie Brady, of Stanford, attended services here Sunday afternoon. The box supper at this place Saturday night was well attended, and a good sum of money was realized. All had a nice time. Revs. Freeman and Verco are holding a series of meetings at Saufley, with a good attendance.

Saved His Boy's Life.

"My three year old boy was badly constipated, had a high fever and was in an awful condition. I gave him two doses of Foley's Orlno Laxative and the next morning the fever was gone and he was entirely well. Foley's Orlno Laxative saved his life." A. Wolkush, Casimer, Wls. Now Stanford Drug Co.

FARM FOR SALE!

The farm of 140 acres, 1/2 good blue grass land, lying one mile North of McKinney on the Stanford pike. Improvements and fencing good; plenty of water and fruit trees. 100 acres of tobacco land, one mile East of McKinney; half under fence; plenty of water and good tobacco land. See growing crop.
